Dear Darla

I'm putting the finishing touches on a decorating vignette that I've designed for Habitat for Humanity that will be on display at this Saturday's Envirofair. We celebrate Earth Day on April 22, but I'm fortunate to decorate using a technique that's as old as recycling...it's called "using what you have." Here's what we started with.

What do you see? Worn? Tired? Broken?

I see potential.

This is about to become fresh, colorful, and something that you would be happy to have in your home. Come out and see this Saturday.

Couldn't make the Filing Freedom class? Order yours

If you have read this far, that means you are enjoying this. I hope I've helped or inspired you in some way this year. Please take a moment to vote for us for the Best of Main Line awards. Voting closes April 13, so please go now. Scroll all the way down to the bottom to the write-in votes and type, "Professional Organizer-HeartWork Organizing," then come right back. I really do appreciate every vote!

On May 22, I'll be presenting to a group on how to organize papers in Plymouth Meeting. Every guest will receive one of my very favorite organizing tools. But you must register to attend this one night class.

I always love to have plenty of great stuff for you to come to, so please check out the events at left. I'm especially excited that I'll be doing another Clear Path Strategies group on General Clutter Control starting on May 29.

Then, I'm taking the Filing Freedom class on the road in June in Bristol, Indiana. Here's what a gentleman from the last class had to say:

Hey I just wanted to let you know that your class and this filing system is one of the best things I have ever invested in myself! I think everyone should have to take this class before they graduate high school. The system totally works and is so simple and easy to use as well as flexible to adapt to individual needs within the well thought out framework provided. I now have much more time now available for me to do the things I enjoy and it keeps getting better and better every day that I use the system!

Please help spread the word. It will take a few days to get the registration site up because I'm right in the middle of a site revamp. I can't wait to unveil it to you soon.

Sincerely,

Darla DeMorrow, CPO® , owner
