Getting It Together: July 2013

Dear Darla,

Winner, winner, chicken dinner.

Congrats to Stephanie A. for winning the Washi Tape giveaway last month. She made a super cute bracelet with her haul. I love having fun things to share.

This month, everyone gets the prize! My friends at Artkive are offering a $10 credit to any new user that creates an account. Artkive is an app, so once you download it onto your smartphone, go to the Account section, in the Group Code box type in "Darla", and $10 will go into your account. How great is that? And if you come to my event on 7/25 (see right), you can see my Artkive book in person and learn why you'll love this app.

Want more giveaways? I am calling this the coolest little organizing tool you never knew you needed. Check out the Tote Buddy video that I made, and win one for yourself!

If you're thinking about what you can still get done this summer, and wondering how to do it better and faster, so you can enjoy more of your real life, then come this Thursday at 7 pm to the "Summer Organizing Hit List" event at Easttown Library. We'll have winners there, too!

Fondly,

Darla DeMorrow

Summer Organizing Hit List

I don't know where the phrase lazy days of summer came from. For people like me (crazy and design obsessed), summer is the time for digging into those projects that I can only get done with longer days and warmer temps.

I know I'm not alone in this. Many people, but parents especially, tell me that things get done during the summer that won't get done other times of the year. Cleaning out the kids closets. Getting caught up on the baby book. Making photo albums. Painting and refreshing the bedroom. Organizing the garage. Maybe just the junk drawer?

Easttown library.

7 pm. Come prioritize your summer projects, win cool stuff. Free registration here.

August 1-3: I'm getting hands-on at Haven Conference. More to tell next month!

October 1, starts 4-part Clutter Control class, in Wayne, PA, 7-8:30 pm.

Register here. If you want to make progress, have your own personal cheerleader, learn new skills, be encouraged, and do it all for cheap, then THIS is the class to take! Real results in a small group setting. YOU choose your project, and we'll cheer you on.

Is it wrong to love organizing junk drawers this much?

What's on your summer organizing and decorating hit list? I've got a project or two queued up like this:

Can't you just see it with a new color? Maybe something bold like turquoise.

I received a new painting tool just today, and I'm hoping to transform my sterile hallway into a drama queen with a lovely rich color called Manor House. Look for a blog post (and giveaway?) on this next month:

I'm working on a bedroom revamp with something like this for inspiration:

But most of all, I'm organizing my calendar for a little more of this:

Isn't he cute?

Whatever your plans are for the summer, organizing, decorating, or kicking back, I hope you enjoy yourself!
