

STAGE appeal

Before this house at 1825 W. High St. in Haddon Heights underwent home staging, it lacked curb appeal.

After the lawn was mowed, a low-hanging branch was cut and the ivy trimmed, the home looked more appealing.

The empty living room wasn't getting the attention it deserved at the Haddon Heights home.

Darla DeMorrow added some chairs and a rug to the empty room to accent the fireplace.
