HelpOuts

Happy Halloween. You're probably just marking time until you can take your little people out to gather candy which you will surreptitiously eat in the coming weeks. No? Just me?

Let me give you just a few ideas on how to burn up those calories that are coming our way tonight. Get your DIY on with me and the ReStore in a couple of weeks. Everyone who registers will be making their own Jewelry Frame like the one shown here. Keep it for yourself or give as a holiday gift (here before you know it). This Habitat for Humanity project will benefit you and the families served by this awesome organization. Read more about it and register here.

Or, you can keep it closer to home. Did you think HelpOuts was typo? It's actually the newest way that I have to help you out, wherever you live. It's a new Google service that allows you to get bite-sized, completely personalized help from me on your organizing project. All you need is a smartphone or laptop with a camera, and this link: http://Helpouts.Google.com and search for my name, Darla DeMorrow. Your scheduled HelpOut is an introductory price of $15, but when you use promo code DARLA48C, you actually make money. I'd love to see how many of your projects we can plan and complete using this fabulous tool. A little organizing project can burn several hundred calories of Halloween candy, ya know.

Have a great weekend, and I look forward to seeing you in person, at the DIY workshop, or online soon.
