Picture Perfect (Pie)

Flip flops. Baseball. Biking. Camp.
Summer's coming, ya'll!

I took this picture (not bad if I do say so) at the Association of Personal

Photo Organizers conference in Florida. APPO is the place for the best tools to help you organize photos, and I'm learning how to take better photos, too, with the help of Nick Kelsh. If you haven't heard of him, I highly recommend checking out his site and photography classes. My photos have become so much better in the last 10 years, but I can help you make even your old photos into better quality memories today! (Want to know how to instantly take better smartphone photos with just one tap? Scroll to the "Three Tips, One Tap" link below.)

I've also found THE modern answer to organizing your digital photos. I'm working on integrating in-person and online classes into the summer schedule. I'm slowly rolling it out to my clients, so if you can't wait to get started on organizing your digital photos on cameras, phones, computers, and drives, email me to get the solution.

By the way, if you are an iPhoto user and don't love frustration, you might want to wait on upgrading to the new Apple OS and the new Photos (which replaces iPhoto) until you see your alternative.

While at the APPO conference, just down the hall the National Pie Championships were going on. Guess where I was hanging out?

Some of my APPO peeps were persuaded to humor me, and we made off with a whole chocolate silk pie. It was a pie for charity, so it had no calories, right?

Scroll to see just some of the posts you might have missed. Be sure to click below on the Steam Cleaner giveaway. Today is the last day! Next month's giveaway is pretty great, too, especially if you want to get your photos organized. Be sure you are subscribed to the blog to get all of the articles as they are published. You don't want to miss out on these goodies lined up just for you, my treasured readers!

Enjoy this warmer weather, my friends. We've earned it!
